

NO APPLICATION REQUIRED
FREE ENTRANCE

Workshop of the presentation skill for young female researchers will be hold on Tuesday, 17 December 2018 at Koganei Campus in TUAT. The researchers in the fields of Energy and Life Science will report their international research collaboration and research activities. We hope that they strengthen the presentation and communication skills for the international activities by this workshop.

Evaluator Associate Prof. Yoshi Itoh
(University of Oxford, UK)

Chair Masaki Inada
Associate Professor,
Women's Future Development Organization Career-Advance Team Director, TUAT

15:20 Opening Remarks

15:30 Presentation and Discussion

*Home range and resting sites of invasive palm civets
in an urban area:
implication for preventing human-wildlife conflict*

Yayoi Kaneko
Associate Professor, Faculty of Agriculture, TUAT

Electromagnetic Properties of Molecular Nanocoils Composed of Charge Transfer Molecules

Yoko Tatewaki
Senior Assistant Professor, Faculty of Technology, TUAT

16:10-16:25 Break

Study on teaching styles and students' behavior in STEM classes for the development of robotic lecturers

Gentiane Venture
Associate Professor, Faculty of Technology, TUAT

16:45 Overview & Closing Remarks

合同発表・評価会

presentation in international conferences

Reports for international research collaboration and 平成三十年度第二回国際共同研究・国際学会発表会の

Workshop of the presentation skill for female researchers

15:20~17:00,
Monday, December 17, 2018

Refresh Room, Building #5, 1st Floor,
Koganei Campus,
Tokyo University of Agriculture and Technology, (2-24-16 Naka-cho, Koganei-shi, Tokyo)